(From the New York Heraid, Tuesday, Sept. 13, 1864.)
Mr. Grover's season of German Opers was inaugurated last evening in a mannag which must have autonished even the most sanguine adherents of Teutonic music. The bound was crowded to suffocation—onpleasantly jammed. Prophe pashed scrambled and fought to get in. We lack apace to demore than notice the performance, which passed off very autocasfully. The orrhestra, under the direction of Mr. Cast Anschutz, was very efficient. The choruses were excellent, the "ensemble" and power being all that could be desired. The "mise en scene" was appropriate.
